OUR VOICES

RYAN, an electrical line worker, finds he can't make it working 40 hours a week earning minimum wage. Bienvenidos helps. "The price of gas and everything else is going up, but not my pay," he says. "I'm always struggling."

MISHA'S rent went up 14% two months ago. Although she works as a secretary, she finds it's hard to make ends meet. "I don't always need extra food, but it's good to know you're here."

MEL has been a Bienvenidos volunteer and board member for six years. "Our volunteers are so enthusiastic, have bought into our mission and that makes them so good to our clients," he says. "Having spent my professional life in the non-profit world, I know how important it is to make sure people's basic needs are met."
